Representatives of the Board of Education, the High School faculty and the press occupied the boxes reserved for them, the remainder being filled for them, the remainder being filled with the families of the young people on the stage. The assemblage of graduates was backgrounded by the members of the High School chorus and the dainty modish gowns of the young ladies, relieved by the requisite black and white of the gentlemen's costumes, presented an attractive vision to the spectators. Superintendent Charles W. Deane and Principal Henry D. Simonds remained on the stage during the exercises.

(By our Staff Correspondent.) Hartford, June 23.—Senator Philip L. Holzer of Bridgeport, has succeeded in having an adverse report from the committee on appropriations, relating to an additional appropriation for the Bridgeport hospital, tabled. The com-mittee some time ago reported favor ably upon an allowance of $7,500 in each instance for the Bridgeport and for the St. Vincent's hospital. This is the customary allowance by the State providing for maintenance only. It has been the custom in the past for the State to allow additional support to hospitals when additions involving heavy expense are made to the build-ings. Both of the Bridgeport institutions contemplate expensive additions to their property and each has asked for an additional appropriation over and above the amount allowed for the maintenance of patients.
Senator Holzer was informed by Senator Blakeslee, chairman of the committee on Appropriations, that owing to the condition of the State finances there would probably be no additional sums allowed by the Legislature for additional construction. However there are a number of hospitals

Should such a fight materialize, and should the General Assembly decide against the policy of the committee dence has been submitted and he saw no reason why the committee should not draft its report in order that the that the request of Bridgeport hospital for an additional sum will be allowed. It is understood in that event that St. Vincent's hospital will also receive State aid for the erection of its additional wing.

ARCHBISHOP RYAN TO

JUDSON DRAFTS AMENDMENT PUTTING TEETH INTO THE CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT

Constitutional Officers 'Are Exempt from Trial Before Election Court, But Are Bound to Same Scale of Expenditure to Get Office POLICE LOOKING FOR LEON as Other Candidates.

Expenditures for Nominations and for Elections Latest Order Sent Out Today Are Divided-Maximum Sum Allowed for Nomination Expenses is $10 per Candidate Per Thousand People in His Party and $15 Per Thousand People in His Party for Election Expenses.

The Corrupt Practices Act of 1907 which created what is now known as the Fox election court, was tried and found wanting on the grounds of un constitutionality when the late Governor Lilley was prosecuted. At that time Attorney Stiles Judson of this city successfully defended Gov. Lilley, showing the weakness of the act. At torney Judson has now drafted certain amendments to the old act which will overcome its defects and have the intended effect of preventing corruption

The weakness of the old act lay in the fact that all officers elected by the direct vote of the people were liable to prosecution before this so "election court." One section ble to prosecution before this so-called "election court." One section of the amended act provides that all U.S. Senators and Congressmen, members of the General Assembly, and State officers shall be exempt from trial before the newly created election court. This provision was made because no court has the right to pass upon the validity of an election to an office which was created by the State conwhich was created by the State con-stitution. Only the body to which the holder of the office in question has been elected may inquire into and de-cide upon the methods used in election.

According to this, members of the General Assembly and the State officers, as the Secretary of State, may not be brought before the election court of inquiry, but may be heard only by the General Assembly. The Attorney General's office is one created by the General Assembly and not provided for in the constitution. Therefore he, like the Mayor of a city, may be haled before the election court for inquiry into any irregular methods used in his election.

Attorney Judson in speaking to stitution is such a court provided for.
One judge of the Superior court will now sit and exercise full judicial functions and issue writs of execution. The court is now more clearly defined and its exact status is set forth so that no question can be made as to its jurisdiction and as to what place it legally holds among the courts

(Special from United Press.) New York, June 23 .- "Look for Leon Ling, disguised as a woman, hiding in the secret subterranean haunts of your Chinatown where the Celectials con ceal the females of their race."

This, in effect, is the latest order sent out by the New York police in the search for the alleged murderer of Elsie Sigel, the girl missionary. Elsie Sigel, the girl missionary. It followed the receipt of a letter by Assistant District Attorney Ward to-day informing him that Leon came to this country six years ago with a Chinese theatrical troop and that he is an accomplished impersonator. He played the parts of women five years, the letter said, and is so expert in assuming the role of a female that he deceives his most intimate Chinese friends. It is said that when Leon is in cities where Chinese openly appear on the where Chinese openly appear on the streets as in San Francisco he has used this training to accomplish his purposes in many of the plots in which he is known to have been involved. This new information has given strength to the belief that Leon has made his way to one of the Pacific coast cities or to New Orleans or Galveston where the Chinese colonies are strong. If he was in Washington, it strong. If he was in Washington, it is thought, he probably went to Galveston where he received aid from smugglers who have been engaged in bringing Chinese women to this country, crossing the Rio Grande and entering the United States from the in-

His journey might have been accomplished, the police say, without those aiding him knowing the character of his flight. Leon is a member of the Gee Clong Tong, the revolutionary society, the object of which is to overthrow the present government of China and which is very strong in most American and South American cities. If Leon had pretended to be on some important mission for this Tong, he would have had the side of the most accomplished.

At a meeting of the board of managers of the Connecticut Society, Sons of the American Revolution, held at the Union League club, New Haven, on Monday, a unique and artistic design for the Compo Beach monument was presented by the sculpton, H. Daniel Webster of New York. It represented a full-sized minute man, in bronze, picking off the British troops from behind two large boulders. Two from behind two large boulders. Two tablets are also to be placed upon thsee builders. The expense is esti-mated at about $3,000, and more than $2,000 has already been subscribed and the remaining few hundred dollars will be gratefully received by Henry C. Attorney Appeals In Vain

Women Coolly Submit to Being Measured and Mugged, a la Bertil-

Deputy Judge Wilder undoubtedly intends to teach shoplifters a lesson. In the city court this morning he sent Mary Carroll to jail for 75 days and fined her $1 and costs. Her sister, Mrs Fanny McLean, alias Atkins, he seni to jail for 65 days and fined her $5 and costs. Their niece, Mrs. Emma Tooker he fined $1 and costs and sent her to jail for 55 days. The McLean woman was unrepresented by counsel. Attorney George F. Mara, who appeared for Mrs. Carroll and Mrs. Tooker, asked that his clients be placed in the charge of the probation officer, because it was the first time they had been arrested. The court refused to suspend the sentence and probate the prisoners, believing that female prisoners arrested for should find the prisoners arrested for the prisoners are the prisoners.

shoplifting had been escaping too lightly in the past.

Attorney Mara said he understood that it had been the custom to probate women arrested for a first offence. He had in mind that Mrs. Nelson, a shop-lifted, was probated after being arrest-ed for her second offence: that the wife of a North End business man who recently was arrested under an assumed name for shoplifting, was al-lowed to go by forfeiting a small bond, while a Miss Morrison, who embezzled in the neighborhood of $700 from a loan company was placed under a probation officer by a higher court. The attorney said that it was also pos-sible that the minds of his clients were unbalanced, when they did the thievhad in mind that Mrs. Nelson, a shor unbalanced, when they did the thiev-ing. The judge said that he had known of cases of kleptomania, but he never heard of their being two cases at once.
The police had prepared four counts against the Carroll woman; four against the Tooker woman and three against the McLean woman. The latter did not take an appeal as she did nnot know whom she could get to put up a bond for her. Mrs. Tooker and Mrs. Carroli took an appeal, the former un-der bonds of $400 and the latter under bonds of $450. Attorney Mara said that his clients had relatives in Water-

MRS. GOULD'S DRINK MENU, COCKTAIL, SMALL BOTTLE OF WINE AND CORDIAL

With This for Luncheon Beverage Witness Testified Howard Gould's Wife Was Only a "Moderate Drinker!"

New York, June 23 .- Further evidence to prove that Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould, who is suing Howard Gould for separation and alimony, never drank more than "a perfect lady should," was introduced at the resumption of the trial today. Edward Ronan, superintendent of Mme. Edmund's dressmaking establishment, said he had seen Mrs. Gould at Mme. Edmund's many times, but had never seen her drink anything stronger than water. Mrs. Mabel Sells, a friend of Mrs. Gould for many years, said she saw Mrs. Gould an average of several times a week while in New York,, was a member of the famous Gould Egyptian party and a guest of the Goulds on their trip to Fiorida in 1905. On none of these occasions had she ever seen evidences that Mrs. Gould was drunk, she said. Mrs. Sells said she was present during Mrs. Gould's al-tercation with Jones, her private secretary at the St. Regis and Mrs. Gould was not drinking at this time, and she showed no signs of temper The witness visited Mrs. Gould at Castle-Gould in August, 1906, and swore that Mrs. Gould was not intoricated at any time during this visit.

She denied, too, that Mrs. Gould told Potter, the carpenter, to "smash the properly. According to Mrs. Sells, Mrs.

Gould was only a "moderate drinker," whose luncheon drink menu usually consisted of "only a cocktail, a small bottle of wine and a cardial."

"She usually had the same for dinner," the witness said, "but it allowed. "She usually had the same for ner," the witness said, "but it allow her in no way. She showed no sign of intorication." The deposition Ellijah Sells," Mrs. Sells husband a cousin of Mrs. Gould, was read, it Sells declared that a bottle of w was always opened for the ladles fore retiring. Mr. Sells said this w done at her request as she "prefer done at her request as she "preferre champagne to whiskey." On cross ar amination Delancey Nicoll asked Mrs. Sells about Mrs. Gould's friendship for Dustin Farnum. The witness said the Mrs. Gould had merely said to her the Farnum was a "good actor and had future."

Nicoll forced her to admit that her. Gould had said that she "contemplated returning to the stage and that she would like to have Farmura as her leading man."
